

Mr. Anil Agarwal, Chairman, Vedanta, tweeted, ‘Reaching out to render timely #floodrelief to communities in #Thoothukudi is indeed commendable.

@sterlite_copper, keep on the good work.’

New Delhi, 5 February, 2016: Sterlite Copper, Vedanta’s copper business in Thoothukudi, Tamil Nadu, continues to provide flood relief and rehabilitation measures for the victims of the Tamil Nadu floods, such as distribution of food packets to the homeless, dewatering flooded areas, cleaning of channels and strengthening water bodies, among others. This week, the company distributed utensils & household articles to 1500 flood affected families in Aiyyanadaippu and Maravanmadam villages of Thoothukudi.

As a group, Vedanta believes in a shared destiny approach, working in partnership with the local communities. Sterlite Copper’s commitment demonstrates Vedanta’s DNA of a social institution, that is an integral part of communities. As a responsible corporate citizen, Sterlite Copper continues to extend every possible effort to rehabilitate the affected communities.

As an immediate measure, the company had distributed 42,000 food packets across flood relief camps in the state. Meanwhile, Sterlite Copper’s mobile medical team ‘Health on Wheels’ conducted free medical camps that benefitted 448 individuals across Thoothukudi. The company had also provided bedding and cooking utensils worth INR 1,000 to each family that was afflicted by the inundated rains.
